THE LIMOUSIN-CAFFAREL SCANDAL DEVELOPING NEW SENSATIONAL FEATURES

Alarm Caused by the Revelations—Mme. Limousin's Alleged Influential Relations with Distinguished Personages—The Reported speech of the Grand Duke Nicholas Officially Denied—Lord Londonderry's Health—Suspicious Movements of Disguised Russians in Afghanistan—Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, October 12.—We are going on from surprise to surprise in the war office scandal. It is impossible, however, to give you any but a very faint idea of the painful impression, not to say alarm, which all these revelations are producing. The central figure in this affair is Mme. Limousin, who was married to the second husband, about a year ago, to a retired General. Her husband was a son of the Duke of Baden. During the lifetime of her first husband she lived at Vincennes, where his salon was the resort of officers of the garrison. Gen. Thibault, formerly minister of war, was one of her intimate friends, and it is related that she gave him shelter after his recent forced retirement. She was the widow of the man who was the son of the Duke of Baden. Elaborate military precautions are being taken at Herat. Trees are being removed and the canal and ditch are being joined in one.

AFGHANISTAN.

SUSPICIOUS MOVEMENTS OF RUSSIANS.

CAROL, October 12.—Three hundred Russian subjects under Yed Yakob All entered Herat in the guise of merchants. The Governor distrusts the object of their visit, communicated with the Amir, who ordered the Governor to arrest M. Mirahmed Khan, the Russian Governor of Mazar-i-Sharif, who is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Amir.

A murder case was no less prosaic in the Criminal Court this morning. It was the case of Louis A. Amaden, alias L. A. Osborne, charged with killing John Murdoch. This was the third day of the Newmarket second October meeting. The race for the Middlepark Plate was won by Sir F. Johnston's chestnut colt Friars Balsam. Lord Londonderry's chestnut colt, Hazlehurst, was second and Lord Calثورp's chestnut filly, Seabreeze, third. There were five starters.

FIVE IN ONE DAY.

A QUINTETTE OF WEDDINGS IN ST. LOUIS SOCIETY.

Mr. Chan. J. Henry Wedded to Miss Isabel Chouteau, Mr. Charles A. Scudder to Mrs Minnie Mason, Mr. J. Paulding Camp to Miss Mollie Haydock, Mr. W. Davis Pittman to Miss Sallie D. Patterson and Mr. Joseph Griesedieck to Miss Matilda Griesedieck.

The peal of marriage bells began early this morning, and there are five weddings to chronicle for the day.

HEALTH-CHEERFUL.

St. Xavier's Church, corner of Grand avenue and Pine street, was filled at an early hour this morning with wedding guests to witness the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Isabel Chouteau, second daughter of Mrs. Peter L. Foy, to Mr. Charles J. Henry of New York. The altar and chancel were elaborately decked with flowers, and innumerable lights blazed from amid the dark green foliage and gay colored flowers. Within the chancel rails was placed the prie dieu, covered with satin and trimmed with tulip, before which the bride and groom knelt during the service.

The bride was arrayed in a white gown with nuptial muslin, by the Right Rev. Bishop McClosky of Louisville, Ky., Father Corbin reciting the mass. Promptly at 11 o'clock the peal of the wedding march gave notice of the approach of the bridal cortege, which was preceded by the ushers, Messrs. L. McNair, John Alcott, and Will Coleman, Lorrel Papin and James Byrnes.

The bride, accompanied by her younger sister, was seated on a broad chair in the aisle and was met at the altar by the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Fuller of Newark.

She wore a wedding robe of pure white satin, very heavy and falling in plain, straight folds from the waist, on train, and with a lace hem.

Across the front was draped a deep flounce of very fine point d'Alençon lace, looped high on the shoulders, and which extended to the bottom of the dress.

The corsage, cut high at the back, was open at the throat and finished with a Medallion collar ornamented with the crest of the Foy.

Mrs. J. Albury Fuller, a case of handsomely engraved solid silver spoons.

Mrs. T. Wolf Tone of New York, a plush case containing a salad set, gold-lined fork and spoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Graham, a case of oxidized silver salt spoons and pickle-knives and forks.

A large mirror set in ebony and brass from the brother and sister of the bride, Julian Foy and Auguste Foy.

A small embroidered scarf from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams.

A French clock and end pieces, urns of glass, and a gilded-glass mirror from Miss Minnie Flanagan.

A solid silver berry bowl lined with gold, from Mr. and Mrs. S. Auguste Chouteau.

A beautiful silver card receiver from Miss Fannie Kepetsch.

A set of large silver forks from Mr. W. J. Pittman.

A lace pin-cushion from Miss Minnie Farnish.

An ebony inlaid table from Mrs. E. J. Curtis.

A superb old Holland Cabinet and table of dark wood, lined with lighter woods, and a fine Empire lamp.

A bronze bas-relief from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herold.

An oak carved wood rocker from Mr. Herold.

A pair of Royal Worcester olive dishes from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herold.

Mrs. Minnie Farnish, a pearl card case.

An exquisite porcelain picture of Miss Isabel Chouteau, painted and presented by Mrs. Bruckner.

A pair of bronzes from Mr. Hilger and Mr. Weite.

A royal Worcester pitcher from Miss Bowman.

A large vase in Doulton ware, from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herold.

From Dr. and Mrs. Le Beau, a large vase in Hungarian ware.

A pair of silver napkin rings from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herold.

From Mrs. Ben White and Mrs. John Sharon, a solid silver set of nut-crackers and nut-holders.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Shapleigh, a handsome lace-collared vest.

Mr. J. Albury Fuller, a case of handsomely engraved solid silver spoons.

Mrs. T. Wolf Tone of New York, a plush case containing a salad set, gold-lined fork and spoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Graham, a case of oxidized silver salt spoons and pickle-knives and forks.

scudder-Mason.

The next wedding upon the list was that of Miss Minnie Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Mason to Mr. Charles A. Scudder.

The ceremony was performed with the rites of the Episcopal Church at Rev. Dr. Holland of George Street, at the home of the groom's parents on Missouri avenue.

The house was elaborately decked with plants and flowers, a large semi-circle which extended to the bottom of the dress.

The corsage, cut high at the back, was open at the throat and finished with a Medallion collar ornamented with the crest of the Foy.

In her ears sparked diamond solitaires presented by the groom.

A diamond studded bracelet presented by Miss Johnson, the niece of the groom.

Her dress was a white satin gown with a pink rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Foy wore heavy black satin dresses, with draperies of fine black thread lace, and garniture of point lace.

Mrs. Eugenia Chouteau had a Paris lace collar, with a white sash.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry had a white fabric.

François combined with white satin brocade, with full draperies and corsage montant; denim sleeves, with long white gloves.

THE RECEPTION.

After the ceremony the bridal party and their invited guests repaired to the family residence, where a reception was held from 1 to 3 o'clock. The broad staircase was lined with hand and glove cases, and plants and the stairway and chandeliers garlanded with similes, the fire-places filled with flowers, filling the air with fragrance. Behind a screen of tropical plants an orchestra was stationed, rendering a solo while the bride and groom were seated on a sofa. In the hall a large bunch of pink roses.

Tully, at the family residence No. 225 Locust street, and the present friends of the bride. They were attended by his brother, Mr. Asa Pittman, and Miss Adela, who was a student at New Orleans, to absent three weeks. When they return they will be at home to their friends at No. 225 Locust street, Friday, in November.

BOUND TO COME.

ST. LOUISANS EXPECTING THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF BOTH PARTIES.

The Citizens Aroused by the Suggestion of the Post-Dispatch—Quiet Movement Already Initiated.—C. C. Rainwater Urges Prompt Action—Mayor Francis Prepared for Work and Already in the Field—The Possibilities Favorably Discussed.

The suggestion in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH that the citizens of St. Louis should be moving in the matter of securing the next National Democratic Convention has aroused the wide-awake citizens to the importance of preparing to be winner in the contest for the honor.

Not only is the desirability of having the Democratic Convention acknowledged and its possibility discussed, but also the possibility of having the National Republican Convention.

St. Louis is conceded to be the very place for both of them. It is central and it has the accommodations and experience necessary to handle crowds. More than that there is not likely to be a Missouri candidate for either place on either ticket, and hence there will be no local influences to fear. There is yet another reason, and this is that St. Louis is a genuine Western city and the practice speaking of this day, Maj. C. C. Rainwater said: "I do not think St. Louis has a serious competitor to fear. Other cities will certainly be in the contest, but it must narrow down close to St. Louis, and the city, I believe, can get the Democratic Convention if only the proper steps shall be taken. It is admitted that Cleveland will have the first place on the ticket. Then it will be necessary that the second place be filled by a Western city. It would naturally go to an Eastern city, and nominate an Eastern man so that the convention must come West and where it goes? Illinois has a candidate for Vice-President in Mr. Black. Indiana will have a candidate and probably other States while Missouri is not likely to have one. It is not probable that any of the extreme Northern cities will expect or try to get a convention, so that the choices are St. Louis or fine."

"What do you think ought to be done to secure it?"

"I think that there should be an organization made of some kind to have it in charge. I think not only that every man who can be induced to work for it should be on any member of the committee, but that a personal delegation should be sent to each member whom we want to win. That is the right way to go at it, and it should commence as soon as possible. Work has been done."

Each member of the committee was ready. Each member of the committee was invited to St. Louis for the Cleveland session, and each member of the committee sent every one a letter, and some of the letters, expressed, expressed regret at not being able to go to Cleveland, but the member who would be in St. Louis when the convention meets, We should go right to work on the matter."

JOHN G. FRATHER.

referring to a suggestion that he should take the initiative in the matter, remarked that he took the view of the matter that he did not think as a member of the committee that he should, but the movement had to be on the side of the citizens and Mayor Francis was that man to move.

He thought that all the influence possible should be brought to bear on the other members of the committee.

As to money, he said: "It was foolish to talk of a million dollars, but we could have a million, no one dreamed of it. It is being needed to get the convention here, but only for some temporary expense after the convention, the committee only needs to be assured of a welcome, and a committee should be appointed to do that. For himself, he was ready to go anywhere or do anything to help."

MAYOR FRANCIS.

speaking about the convention, smiled knowingly and said: "I have not been entirely idle on this thing and have been moving in that direction for several weeks past, have been writing to our national chairman and could exert any influence and have obtained promises of work for St. Louis in this matter. Others have done the same, and the ball has been rolling now. I think I can promise that something will be done for St. Louis to get not only the Democratic National Convention."

"Do you think there is any possibility of getting the Republican National Convention?"

"We have the best chance, I think, and two could just as well come as one. It is easy to prepare for two as to prepare for one. There is nothing like trying, and I believe we can do it."

"Would you organize?"

"I hardly think that time has arrived as yet, but we will start now, and to make the movement prominent by organization might invite early opposition. My idea is for each man to do his best, he can in the movement, and to turn to the committee men where they have influence. If I know a man in Arkansas who knows the Arkansas committee, I can get him to do the same, and get him to work with the right man, and so with others. We want to get all committee men to do their best, and then when the National Committees meet we shall have national delegations there. Certain sections of the country are natural allies of St. Louis and will help it. But we must work, and every man can give a helping hand, I think. I see no reason why we should not secure both conventions next year."

The two committees who were here during the President's visit were James E. Boyd of Nebraska and R. F. Lowe, of Tennessee. It was stated to-day that several committee men had declared in favor of St. Louis.

DEAD BY THE ROAD SIDE.

A Suicide Found With His Throat Cut From Ear to Ear.

This morning at 6:30 o'clock as T. Osborn, residing at No. 7210 Minnesota avenue, Carson, went west on Franklin Avenue, between Quincy and Loughborough, he found he made a most ghastly discovery. There lying in a vacant lot on the east side of the street was a man with his throat cut almost from ear to ear. The razor with which the wound had evidently been made lay near the body. It was all covered with blood. The man was already dead. Officer Murphy was notified, and he had the body placed in a patrol wagon and removed to the coroner's office.

It was then learned that the man was Ernst Gutekunst, a gardener, 33 years of age, who had been married for 10 years, and had three small children on a farm on Loughborough avenue. The unfortunate woman was notified, and stated that her husband had left on the 10th instant with his son, and was not seen again. He had a razor and a shave. They refused to shave him, however, stating that it was too late. Then he asked Green to get a razor and the latter did so, receiving $1.00 in payment. As soon as he paid him the money he remarked: "I wish you would take me across the River Des Peres and cut my throat." Green said: "I will." Afterward he was seen to hitch his horse and wagon in front of No. 6300 South Broadway. At 10:30 a.m. the man was found lying on the ground, and was seen again on South Broadway, and was seen going south on Broadway and were brought to the Carondelet Police station. There he was found alone, and the man having committed suicide. His body was laid out on a table at the coroner's office this afternoon. Green has one son, 12, on the police force and another, a barcarie, in Florida. The latter also keeps a stand at the Union market, and the boy, it is said, will bury the body. A verdict of suicide was rendered. No cause for his act could be learned.

The School Board.

The greater part of the session of the School Board last night was taken up discussing the heating arrangements for the new high school in the Union school building. It was decided that the board would furnish the furnace. An addition to Charles school was ordered.

A report of receipts and expenditures was received for September. The report of the Teachers' Committee was approved. A special session will be held next Tuesday evening to prepare for the election.

THE UNION SQUARE CLUBBING.

Superintendent Murray's Report Not Completed—Waiting for Affidavits.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, October 13.—Superintendent Murray's report to the Police Board, regarding the clubbing in Union Square on Saturday, was not completed yesterday. He said that he had received many affidavits from members of the Union Square party, who were clubbed. It is not known what the police officials will do delay action on the blunder of Saturday night, until after the Indiana meeting in the Square, on Monday evening.

There is talk of arresting any speakers at the Indiana meeting, on account of language. To the correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, who asked what steps had been taken to prevent disorder at the meeting, Superintendent Murray said:

"I don't think there is reason to expect serious trouble at the meeting, but the police will be prepared to meet any emergency that may arise."

"Who will have command of the police at the meeting?"

"Inspector Steers will be at the Union Square, but I am not sure where there also." Inspector Steers said he can't depend on it that the police will not make any move in the crowd without orders. There will be no crowd unless there is some cause to it."

"Suppose they do not repeat the Haymarket performance in Chicago?"

The police of this city will not run away from a crowd, but they will follow it, if necessary, to see the men who do it. If it is necessary for the police to do any clubbing by my orders, it will be done to the Queen's taste."

Tour of the New York Central Office Board—On the Way Home.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chairman of the New York Central Board, and party, after a drive around the city to-day, took the train to the Bee Line on a special train for Cincinnati, from there will go to Cleveland and then over the New York Central to New York. Chauncey M. Depew, President of the New York Central, said: "The party is made up of the New York Central Board, and the system. We come this way because it is the shortest route. The trip is largely for pleasure, but there is a little business connected with it. What is that business? Details of railroad management."

President of the Council George Allen, who had been at Vanderbilt's home in New York, procured the carriages for the party. The drive was brief. The baggage was sent down to the special early and was on the train when the party arrived at the depot.

IDENTIFIED AGAIN.

The Body of the Woman Taken From the River—Still a Mystery.

The identification of the body of the drowned woman taken from the river Monday morning near East Carondelet has been a ballyhooed affair. Instead of two women being concerned there are now three mixed in it and they are all women who have been patients at the St. Louis Female Hospital. It is not the same woman, nor is it the same hospital.

Dr. Dorsett states that his message was misinterpreted yesterday. It was not to Mrs. Weller, but to Mrs. Wahle that Mr. Johnson gave the envelope addressed to himself. Dr. Dorsett says he also knows it was the same woman by a description of her clothing. He is positive that the body has not been found. No cause is known for her suicide, if it is such, and her death is a mystery.

Two Bad Freight Wrecks.

There were two bad freight wrecks on the St. Louis & San Francisco road, and, as a consequence, the passenger trains of the road were delayed this morning. The trains were near Meridian, a little station just the other side of Pacific, Mo., and the two were within a mile and a half of each other. One hundred and seven or eight of the cars behind the wrecks. The cars were loaded with lead. No one was seriously injured in either wreck. The wrecks occurred in such a short space of time in early this morning, did not arrive until 10:30 a.m.

KNOCKED OUT.NOT THE BROWN STOCKINGS, BUT PUBLIC OPINION.

The Surprise Brought Out by the Great Series—St. Louis Ahead in Batting—Detroit Leads in Fielding. The U.S. Cup of Hippodrome—Its Ridiculousness Exposed—Getzein Caruthers' Hoodoo—Cincinnati Lays Out Chicago Again—Sporting Notes.

The series for the world's championship has gone far enough to dislodge the public mind of two impressions: First, that the Detroit, if they win, will do it by their superior hitting; second, that if the Browns win it will be because of their superior fielding and base running. Regarding base running no opinion can be formed as yet, as the clubs are about even, but the folks who are betting on the Browns are zeroing in on the fact that with that hit made in yesterday's game they stole but two bases, the same number as the Detroit. The Browns are the only club in the series which has not been able to increase its percentage of hitting and fielding the positions so far are reversed. The Browns excel with the style of batting and fielding the positions so far are reversed.

Take Von der Ahé for instance. For two years he has been getting only corporal gains out of his games in Detroit, but he has done just the opposite. In his last game he hit .375 and had an interest in St. Louis, and as a matter of fact, he has hardly made expenses in his games lately. Getzein Caruthers' hoodoo has been gained by it. At the most not over $3,000 or $4,000. Would any man, especially as shrewd as Von der Ahé, let his manager stand as high as Von der Ahé would put his manager up in the air? Do the records of the manager bear out any suspicion of hippodroming?
